

A Bu

19 years old Chinese pianist who won this year's new jazz talent contest "Riga Jazz Stage". He lives in New York studying classical music at prestige Julliard school. A Bu performs around the world gaining his fanbase mainly because of fantastic ability to improvise so freely.

Unusual stage name is given by A Bu's father already 18 years ago. Those are the first sounds his son talked. There are three albums recorded so far. Two with a trio, but third is solo debut "Live at Beijing Poly Theater" by now released only in China.

One of the main idols of A Bu is pianist from Dominicana Michel Camilo. Exactly his recordings were the first push for a young talent to improvise freely and with total dedication not forgetting to keep-up the groove.

Already at the age of 14 he performed together with legendary American jazz pianist Chick Corea, but in the future he plans a program together with Latvian Radio bigband.

"A Bu is a highly creative and accomplished jazz pianist who is also a gifted composer. I regard him as a promising young jazz lion who has a brilliant career ahead of him and will surely be talked about for many years to come." Michel Camilo.

More information on artist: <https://www.abujazz.com/>

Feel the Rhythm!